

About the Driftriders:

Our club was founded in 1970. Membership in 2007 reached 300.

The continuing primary function of the club is to promote safe and responsible snowmobiling, and to introduce our sport to those who have never experienced it.

The Driftriders have established, and are responsible for, over 40 miles of New York State recognized trails. These trails are located in Wayne County, primarily in the towns of Williamson, and Sodus.

We have an excellent working relationship with snowmobile clubs in the neighboring areas, and are also active in our efforts to preserve and improve our sport through our involvement with the New York State Snowmobiling Association (NYSSA).

Please visit our website for club news, meeting information, and the members message board.
